Try our Newest Google App - Jamboard!

Jamboard is as simple as a whiteboard but smarter. Go to jamboard.google.com and try it out.

Jamboard is one smart display. Quickly pull in images from a Google search, save work to the cloud automatically, use the easy-to-read handwriting and shape recognition tool, and draw with a stylus but erase with your finger – just like a whiteboard.

Share ideas in brainstorming or lectures

Jamboard makes learning visible and accessible to all collaborators on the jam session. Plus, It's easy to present your jams in real time through Meet, allowing for easy sharing or making real-world connections.

Students can jam from anywhere. Educators can engage all students in the learning process, whether working together in a traditional classroom, a group seminar setting, or through distance learning. The Jamboard app for Android and iOS makes it easy for students and educators to join in on the creativity from their phone, tablet, or Chromebook.

Five Tips During Remote Learning (lionsdigest.com)

1. Get out of bed. Taking two steps to get out of bed reminds the body that the day is starting.
2. Change the clothes you wear. Staying in the same clothes for more than one day can make a person feel sluggish, and bring down their motivation to do work.
3. Eat well-defined meals. For some people, the desire to focus on school is either so important or so stressful that people can forget to eat during the school day. Listen to your body. When you think that you're hungry, try to eat something.
4. Try to get your body moving. Getting the motivation to get out of bed can be hard, and having the motivation to exercise is an even greater feat. Similar to getting out of bed, when the body moves, the brain "moves".
5. Remember that change is not easy. Balancing school and the stress that comes with it can be challenging for lots of people. Recognize that if you are stressed, it is completely fine to take a breather or even a break from the task at hand. Leave the task, regroup, and then come back when you feel better.
